

Inside-Out Program - CSS 310 Restorative Justice

Members of the Inside-Out Program at DePaul University in conjunction with Stateville Correctional Center were invited to participate at the Fifth Annual National Conference on Higher Education in Prison on November 6-8, 2015 in Pittsburgh, PA, hosted by a coalition of local universities and social justice organizations, including the University of Pittsburgh, West Virginia University, Duquesne University, Chatham University, and the Restorative Justice Group of Pittsburgh.

One of the inside students, Peter, had his paper featured at an all-conference plenary session on the theme of "Politics and Ethics of College-in-Prison." His paper was delivered by proxy by Kimberley Moe.

5 more inside papers were also accepted, and were delivered as a panel session to the conference. Inside students: Demetrius, Marcos, Bilal, Mike, and Ron had their papers read by 5 Outside DePaul students:

Emily Beh, class of 2015

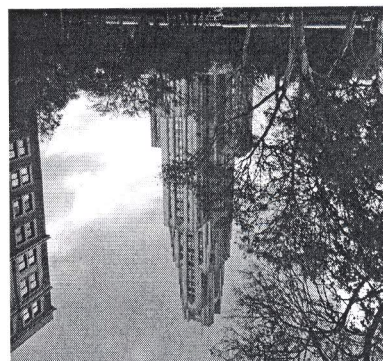

Olivia Ciesol, class of 2015

Lauren Kret, class of 2016

Noemi Roman, class of 2014

Mollie Thirior, class of 2016

Most of the conference activities took place at the beautiful Cathedral of Learning on the University of Pittsburgh campus.

For additional information see: "The DePaulia article 'LEARNING IN LOCK-UP'"

